

Art in the Library with the Museum of the Islands

---

Free art classes to begin on Wednesdays during June and July from 10am-1pm at the library, next to the museum:

- Parent or guardian must stay on premises
- Bring your own art supplies, artist quality
- Bring something you are working on, or an inspiration piece such as a photo, or object. A still life will be set up for those without one.
- Ages 8-17
- No pre registration, first come first in
- Wear something you don't mind getting paint on
- Classes are each Wednesday beginning June 7th, from 10am till 1pm, ending July 26th
- Bring lunch, or a snack and something to drink

The library opens at 10am and will be handing out tickets to young artists as they arrive. We will work in the conference room at the library. The Kiwanis Club of Pine Island has generously donated money to supplement their art supplies so that we may explore different techniques, and a variety of materials. There will be a critique at the end of each class so that the students can discuss their piece, with the group using 'constructive criticism'. At the end of July we hope to have an art exhibit and reception at the library.

Classes are taught by Karen Hartshorne, President of the museum. Email her with any questions giftshop@museumoftheislands.com. Looking forward to seeing you!
